

ALA 302 The Human Dimension 3 units

Examining the human experience from the disciplines of psychology, sociology and anthropology you will explore how humans interact individually and within social structures. Skills will be gained in understanding human motivation and behavior.