

ALA 401 Language and Learning 3 units

An overview of language development and acquisition for language minority children will be presented in this course. You will also learn about methods and materials that enhance teaching.